

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The path of a PhD student is full of obstacles set before you by nature and other people. But the blessing of my parents has made along the way and helped me to overcome them.

The first and foremost thanks goes to H. H. Dr. Swami Rama ji, whose perseverance saw the founding of this great Institute. Words are not enough to describe such a great personality but all I can say is that I am really thankful to God that I got opportunity to be the part of his dream institute as a student.

For my work, firstly, I would like to thank my supervisor Dr. R. K. Agarwal, Professor and Head, Department of Microbiology, SRH University, for giving me all the help and advice with my project and also for sharing his vast knowledge in the field. I am also very grateful for the opportunities you gave me to attend the courses and conferences.

To my co-supervisor Dr. Biswaroop Chatterjee, Associate Professor, Department of Microbiology, SRH University, thanks is a very small word. It was pure luck that allowed me to start working with you, but nothing like luck that allowed me to see it through, because you had a plan! You have a way of understanding people, knowing when they need help or a little push and that makes you great. I am very proud to have been your first PhD student and I hope many more will have the chance of working with you! I would also like to thank you for not only your advice but also for the freedom you gave me in designing my own experiments which led me to think independently and because of which I had many fruitful outcomes.

I would like to thank Dr. Garima Mittal, Associate Professor, Department of Microbiology, SRH University for her moral support and constant encouragement throughout this PhD journey.

I would also like to thank my Ph. D committee members, for many thought provoking conversations and pushing me to be a better researcher.

Great thanks to Dr. Pramod K. Upadhyay, Scientist, National Institute of Immunology, New Delhi. His abundant knowledge and experience in molecular biology helped me in fixing problems with my molecular experiments and also to Dr. Narottam Sharma, Biotechnology Scientist, SGRR Institute of Medical Sciences, Dehradun for giving me an opportunity to work in central molecular research laboratory and availing all the facilities with full freedom.

Special thanks to Ramesh ji. He is a nice friend and always available for all sorts of help.

Special thanks also to Pradhan ji, Office Executive, as well as to all the technical and non-technical members of staff in Microbiology Department for helping and supporting me in every stage of my study.

Date .....

Naresh Khanduri